REBIRTH S.P.A. – improves its ESG rating and consolidates its Corporate Sustainability path

Formello, 16 June 2026 – Rebirth S.p.A. (ISIN Code: IT0005460081 - Ticker: ALREB), a dynamic company, specialized in the development and management of real estate assets, listed on the Euronext Growth Paris market, announces the significant improvement of its ESG (Environmental, Social & Governance) rating, released again by Cerved Rating Agency with effect from June 2026, which recorded an increase from 47 to 56 points out of 100 compared to the previous independent assessment. The assessment confirms the path of growth and strengthening of sustainability policies undertaken by the Group, positioning Rebirth on the average range for the sector.

Progress affects all dimensions of the assessment. In particular, the score relating to Governance reached 62 points, up from 44 points in the previous survey, thanks to the adoption of important oversight and control tools, including the 231 Organisational Model, the corporate Code of Ethics and the strengthening of whistleblowing, anti-corruption and conflict of interest management procedures.

Significant progress was also recorded in the Social area, which went from 49 to 56 points, enhancing the initiatives carried out in favor of people and communities of reference. Among the most appreciated elements are the corporate welfare system, the activities promoted through the Rebirth Foundation, the introduction of tools for listening and involving staff and the absence of accidents and critical issues in the field of health and safety.

The Environmental dimension also improved, reaching 51 points. The assessment recognises the investments made in energy efficiency, the use of energy from renewable sources, the digitalisation of business processes, the reduction of paper consumption and the commitment to the construction and management of buildings with high energy performance. An important role has also been attributed to urban regeneration projects and recovery of the existing building heritage, aimed at the sustainable enhancement of the territories.

The new rating highlights how Rebirth is progressively integrating ESG principles into its decision-making processes and development strategies, with particular attention to the creation of long-term value for shareholders, employees, customers, local communities and industrial partners.

The Company considers the result achieved not as a point of arrival, but as a stage in a structured path of continuous improvement. In the coming months, Rebirth will continue to implement its ESG initiatives, with the aim of further strengthening environmental policies along the supply chain, defining measurable sustainability objectives in the medium to long term and consolidating the governance and transparency tools already introduced.

The evolution of the rating represents concrete confirmation of the Company's commitment to a responsible growth model, capable of combining economic development, innovation, attention to people and enhancement of the territory.
